A heartfelt thank you to the organizers of DSA and NATSEC Asia 2026 for their unwavering dedication in providing a vital platform to address the evolving needs of the global defence and security community.

The Royal Malaysia Police (RMP) remains steadfast on the frontlines of national security, committed to combating transnational crime, counter-terrorism efforts, ensuring public safety, and maintaining law and order. Our responsibilities are broad and interconnected, and we continuously adapt to meet the challenges posed by increasingly sophisticated criminals and evolving threats. Events like DSA and NATSEC Asia are essential opportunities for us to explore the latest technologies, strategies, and collaborations that strengthen our capabilities and reinforce our dedication to safeguarding the nation.

This year's theme, "Enhancing Capabilities and Resilience Through Technology," perfectly captures the needs of modern policing. Today, technology is not a luxury but an indispensable tool—vital for threat detection, crime investigation, and protecting lives. These platforms drive innovation and provide police forces like ours with access to cutting-edge tools, enabling us to stay ahead in a rapidly changing security environment.

Technology acts as a powerful force multiplier for the RMP. It helps us overcome workforce and resource limitations while significantly improving the speed and accuracy of our responses. From analytics that reveal criminal patterns to facial recognition systems monitoring high-risk areas, technology allows us to work smarter, faster, and with greater precision. This demonstrates our adaptability and unwavering commitment to staying ahead in the fight against crime and threats.

Thanks to technological advancements, what once seemed impossible is now a reality. Tech-driven and Data-driven predictive policing helps us anticipate crimes and deploy resources more effectively. Similarly, advanced cybersecurity systems underpin our digital investigations, protecting critical infrastructure and sensitive data from cyber threats. These innovations not only improve efficiency but also save lives and strengthen public trust in law enforcement's commitment to peace and justice.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to the organizers of DSA and NATSEC Asia for their tireless efforts in creating platforms that address key defence and security issues. Your dedication is truly appreciated. These events highlight Malaysia's leadership in fostering global collaboration and innovation.

Looking ahead to 2026, I invite all stakeholders to join us in harnessing technology to build a more resilient and capable security ecosystem. I especially look forward to engaging with my counterparts and security professionals from across the region. Through dialogue and cooperation, we can forge stronger partnerships that promote regional peace and stability.

On behalf of the Royal Malaysia Police, I pledge our full support for the success of DSA and NATSEC Asia 2026 - whether through securing venues, managing public safety, or active participation. We are committed to applying the lessons and innovations from these events to strengthen our capabilities and better safeguard our nation.
