Assalamualaikum and Greetings

For the past five decades, the National Security Council (NSC) has been at the forefront when it comes to managing national security of Malaysia. With the recent COVID-19 outbreak, the role of NSC has become more prominent with NSC taking the lead while working together with various ministries and government agencies to develop strategic measures and standard operating procedures (SOPs) in ensuring the safety of the nation.

COVID-19 has presented Malaysia with various challenges and one of them is managing our international border security. In controlling and overseeing our international border, NSC has enhanced the maritime operations along the Straits of Malacca and the Sulu Sea. As we move forward, NSC's focus is to increase our capacity and capability in managing the country's border via air, land, sea and cyber security. Collaborations and strategic partners both locally and internationally are crucial to ensure our success.

Events like Defence Service Asia (DSA) and National Security Asia (NATSEC Asia) are important in providing platforms for delegates, government agencies and ministries to gather, discuss and collaborate for the sole purpose of improving defence and security in their respective countries. I believe the DSA and NATSEC Asia 2022 are pivotal in bringing Malaysia's defence and security to the next level.

See you at DSA and NATSEC Asia 2022!
